RARE BULBS

TIGRIDIAS—A rare bulb from Mexico and Chile. Rather large and very pretty blooms, oddly shell shaped. Blooms over a long period. Plant like Gladiolus about 3 inches deep. Lift before frost and store in dry sand over winter. Plant out in late spring. The color golden yellow. Flowering size bulbs 3 for ----- 35c

GALTONIA—Native of South Africa. Great tall spires of creamy pendant bells on tall stems in summer. Hardy in the north if heavily mulched or may be dug and carried over winter in dry sand. Large flowering size bulbs. Each 15c. 2 for 25c

TRITONIA—Native of South Africa. Flowers are born on stems 3 feet high in panicles, each panicle having as many as 20 blooms on it. North of Philadelphia they should be handled like gladiolus. Hardy in the South. Mixed colors only, large flowering size. Three for ----- 25c

AMARYLLIS—Unexcelled for pot culture. Pot up one bulb with rich soil in a five inch pot and be sure it is well drained, just barely cover the bulb. The large lily-like flowers will appear in a few weeks. The body color of the bloom may be white, broken up by heavy streaks and lines of tropic luxuriance, in rose, red and other colors—or else dominantly orange, cherry, cerise, crimson with mottling or striping of vivid contrasts; 3 to 5 flowering stalks to a bulb. Mixed colors only, extra large flowering bulbs. each ----- 50c

TUBEROSE—Fall flowering bulbs; long, compact spikes of double, waxy white flowers; exquisitely perfumed. The bulbs should be set out early in June and covered with about an inch or more of fine light soil. The bulbs should be dug before frost and stored in a warm place in dry sand over winter. If you once grow Tuberoses you will never be without them. 3 large bulbs for ----- 25c Or a dozen post paid with a $2.00 order for 75c

SPECIAL COLLECTION

Buy this collection for your pool and enjoy their beauty all summer, as many as 3 to 6 large blooms on a plant at a time. 1 Chromatella, 1 Marliac White, 1 Marliac Flesh and 1 dozen bunches of oxygenating plants. Post paid for $3.50

NOTE—Water lily plants should not be exposed to the sun or drying wind before planting, plant in very rich soil, fill up your pool so that your plants are covered with 8 to 10 inches of water. Never allow the tubers of water lilies to be frosted or frozen. Dig in the fall and store in wet sand over winter leaving all the soil that will cling to them on. Keep moist all winter and plant out as soon as warm weather comes again.

HARDY BORDER AND ROCK GARDEN PLANTS

All our plants are 2 year old field grown without winter protection and irrigation. Heavy root systems. Plants preceded by an asterisk are hardy border plants, too tall for Rock Gardens. All plants are 3 for 60c unless otherwise noted.

NOTE—We are unable to ship Border and Rock Garden plants into some States, due to existing European Corn Borer Quarantines. Before ordering write us and we will tell you if we can ship plants into your State.

AJUGA REPANS—3 to 4 inches. Deep purplish blue flowers in May-June, plant in sun or shade.

ARABIS ALPINA—6 to 8 inches. Greenish gray foliage, white flowers in May.

ARMERIA (Maritima Splendens)—6 to 10 inches. Fine grassy, evergreen mounds; ball shaped, deep coral rose flowers on a naked stem.

BLEEDING HEART—The old fashioned grandmother's flower, 2 to 3 feet. In May and June the plant is covered with numerous deep rose heart shaped flowers in racemes. Each 40c, 3 for $1.00

DIANTHUS DELTOIDES—10 to 12 inches. A charming slender stemmed type, foliage prostrate; a mass of small carmine to light coral flowers in May and June.

DIANTHUS FURST BISMARCK—10 to 12 inches. This is an outstanding named dianthus, in constant luxurious bloom from early June until frozen down in the fall. The color is an even rose pink; the large clusters of bloom can easily be mistaken for a branch of a climbing rambler rose in prime bloom. Price, 3 for 75c

GYPSOPHILA REPANS—6 to 8 inch. Clouds of white flowers in June on a prostrate growing plant.

IRIS PUMILLA BLUE—4 to 5 inch. The baby iris blooms in April and May, beautiful flowers of royal purple. Sold in clumps only.

HINTS ON GROWING DAHLIAS

Always plant your dahlias in a sunny location, and in a well drained spot. The use of well rotted manure, rotted lawn clippings or rich soil from the compost heap is advised unless you are satisfied the ground is rich, this does not mean that dahlias demand rich soil, but they will do better on it. Plant the root 6 inches deep and cover with 2 inches of fine soil, gradually filling up to the level as plant progresses in growth. Plants are planted about 8 inches deep, first removing the leaves that will be covered up by the soil when it attains its level, afterwards it is handled quite the same way. Before the plants have made too much growth, a stake 6 feet long should be driven about 6 inches away from the plant, and immediately start tying the plant to it with soft cord or ribbons torn from cloth, always being sure not to tie too tightly to cause girdling or pinching.

of the plant stem. For large blooms the plant should be pinched back after it has made three sets of leaves, pinch out the top, this will make the plant throw up 6 lateral branches, remove all lateral growth from the leaf joints on the laterals with the exceptions of the two on the lower leaf joint next to the main stem, remove all buds that form but the main bud in the center of the cluster on the end of the stem, this bud will produce the large bloom you want, after the first bloom has been cut, the two lower laterals left next to the main stem will be allowed to grow and bloom, when cutting the blooms, cut as much of the stem as can be cut without injuring the two tender laterals left. If tall plants are wanted do not pinch out the top but remove all leaf laterals until plant has attained the desired height. Always keep the surface of the ground loose, and after each watering or rain, hoe and rake over, this will aid air absorption and conserve moisture. If it is desired to use some fertilizer, you may use to five plants, one pound of ground bone meal, 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of sheep manure and about three pounds of sifted wood ashes that have never been wet (after ashes have been wet they loose their strength) mix all together and spread around the plants and water liberally (not sprinkled). Do not start watering until the buds have begun to show, unless season is dry, and then water about every ten days, (don't sprinkle but thoroughly soak the ground). A good spraying of the plants and the under side of the leaves once a week is good insurance. I always use Black Leaf '40' Nicotine Sulphate. To a gallon of water add one teaspoon of Nicotine and 1/4 teaspoon of Arsenate of Lead. This most always gives complete control. Cut your flowers late at night or very early morning while the dew is on them, place them in cold water and out of all drafts of air, never cut your flowers in the heat of the day if you want them to stand up and last. After the plants are frozen down in the fall, cut the stalks off close to the ground and dig very carefully so that you do not break the necks on the roots. Store in a cardboard box, place the clump of roots upside down to allow all the remaining sap to dry off or drain away, cover the box up tightly to exclude the drying air and place in a cool and moist place free from frost. Peek into the box once in a while to see that there is no rot or mildew, if rot or mildew is seen, cut away all rot and dust with common sulphur, dry the roots for a day or two and replace them the same as before. Never plant but one root with an eye or sprout on it in a place, planting a whole clump or roots like that which was dug in the fall means complete failure, it should always be divided before planting.

Sincerely yours, Manley Webb (Manager).
